Encourage them to apply NOW for up to 2-years Tuition!

The state's Workforce Board and Washington Student Achievement Council have relaunched the Washington Award for Vocational Excellence (WAVE) Scholarship this spring. That's great news for your top CTE and professional-technical students! The Legislature created this award of excellence to help high-performing students achieve their CTE education and career goals, providing postsecondary tuition support.

Application deadline is May 6, 2022.

Who is eligible?

This year's graduating high school students (Class of 2022), along with community and technical college students who have completed at least one year of a professional-technical program. High school CTE students must have completed or be in the process of completing their second course in a single CTE pathway.

How much does it pay? It varies.

The WAVE award varies, according to the tuition charged by the institution you'll attend, plus required service and activity fees, up to $11,000 per year. Remember, the amount you receive may be less, if your institution charges less in tuition and fees.

Where can the award be used?

The WAVE award may be used at Washington's community and technical colleges, regional and research universities, accredited independent colleges, and licensed private vocational schools.
